A Special "Thank You"

In producing the TESL Reporter, one of the most important behind-the-scenes jobs is the evaluation of manuscripts which have been submitted to the editor to be considered for publication. Manuscripts are evaluated not only by the TESL Reporter's editorial staff but also by other TESL professionals with expertise appropriate to the topic of the manuscript. In addition to evaluating submissions, these "referees" frequently offer useful suggestions on how manuscripts can be improved. For their service, these individuals receive no reward other than professional recognition and sincere thanks from the editor, the staff, and the readers of the TESL Reporter. Thus, we extend a special "thank you" to the following people who, in the past year, have evaluated manuscripts for the TESL Reporter :

Virginia French Allen	Spring Institute for International Studies Denver, Colorado
Mary Ashworth	University of British Columbia Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada
Janet Constantinides	University of Wyoming Laramie, Wyoming
Robert Kaplan	University of Southern California Los Angeles, California
Gregory Larkin	Northern Arizona University Flagstaff, Arizona
Judy Winn-Bell Olsen	Alemany Community College Center San Francisco, California
Frank Otto	Brigham Young University Provo, Utah
G. T. "Tippy" Schwabe	University of California at Davis Davis, California
Earl Wyman	Brigham Young University—Hawaii Campus Laie, Hawaii
