

ELI Institute at UH

Preliminary Announcement

Under a grant from the U.S. Office of Education, and in cooperation with the Department of English as a Second Language of the University of Hawaii, an Institute in TESL in Community Colleges will be held in Honolulu from June 7- July 23, 1971.

This seven-week, full-time Institute is designed for both pre-service and in-service training of teachers of ESL in community colleges both in Hawaii and elsewhere. Its required program includes two courses (Foundation of ESL, and Methods and Materials of TESL in Community Colleges) and a workshop. The purpose of the workshop is to prepare a program, curriculum, or other material which can be immediately implemented in the participants' institutions in Fall, 1971. Those who have had substantial training in TESL or those whose institutions do not have urgent need for a TESL program may not find the Institute to their benefit.

Applications are invited from those persons currently teaching in or intending to teach in institutions of higher education, especially community colleges. Deadline: April 15, 1971.

Stipends will be paid to participants and there will be an allowance for dependents; there is no provision for either travel or books. Housing may be available for single participants on the campus; others must seek off-campus accommodation. It should be pointed out that the Honolulu cost of living is very high
