
Employment Opportunities

The Department of Linguistics of The University of Iowa expects to have an opening for a theoretical linguist with specialization in Teaching English as a Foreign Language. The term of the appointment and the starting date are negotiable (January or August 1979). Salary and rank will be commensurate with experience and qualifications. Ph.D. required by time of appointment. In addition to specialized courses, applicants must be qualified to teach courses in general linguistics.

• Please submit applications as soon as possible. The University of Iowa is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Address inquiries or applications to:

Robert S. Wachal, Chairman
Department of Linguistics
University of Iowa
Iowa City, Iowa 52242

EDUCATION DEVELOPMENT CENTER seeks the following personnel to teach innovative English for Special Purposes (ESP) programs in Algeria. French desirable.

EFL INSTRUCTORS: (Six-month contract beginning January/February, 1979 with extensions possible.)

Qualifications: BA plus EFL experience essential; MA in EFL/Linguistics or related field desirable. EFL experience overseas preferred; experience in materials development and familiarity with ESP materials helpful.

EFL PROGRAM DIRECTOR: (Available September, 1979.)

Qualifications: MA plus EFL experience in curriculum development, evaluation and teacher training; technical background helpful; ability to coordinate diverse aspects of program essential; overseas experience preferred.

Submit 3 copies of resume detailing experience, training, salary history, and references.

International Programs/EFL
Education Development Center
55 Chapel Street
Newton, Massachusetts 02160

Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer